

Cyber Strategy & Technology Studies Working Group //
Oxford Technology & Security Nexus*
Trinity 2024 Term Card

Time: 3:00 - 4:00 PM on Wednesdays during Term-Time

Location: Nuffield College/Zoom (hybrid format)

The new name of this group.

Postgraduate students, fellows, staff and faculty from any discipline are welcome. This group aims to foster frequent interdisciplinary critical dialogue across Oxford and beyond about the political impacts of emerging technologies.

Please contact Elisabeth Siegel at elisabeth.siegel@politics.ox.ac.uk in advance to participate or with any questions.

Discussion topics will be finalized and required/optional readings will be sent out a week in advance. You do not currently have to be affiliated with the University of Oxford to attend and participate in discussions.

Date		Meeting Schedule
April 24 3:00 pm	Week 1	Nikki Sun (Oxford Martin School AI Governance Initiative) Topic: AI, Labor Practices, and the Future of Work
May 1 3:00 pm	Week 2	Sihao Huang (Department of Politics and International Relations) Topic: China's AI Capabilities, Governance, and International Engagement
May 8 3:00 pm	Week 3	Yi-Ting Chang (School of Geography and the Environment) Topic: Taiwan's Satellite Production amid Geopolitical Tensions
May 15 3:00 pm	Week 4	Dr. Ana Valdivia (Oxford Internet Institute) Topic: AI Supply Chain Impacts and the Environment
May 22 3:00 pm	Week 5	Prof. Vili Lehdonvirta and Boxi Wu (Oxford Internet Institute) Topic: Cloud Empires' Physical Footprint: Trade and Security Politics Shaping Global Data Infrastructure
May 29	Week 6	NO WORKING GROUP MEETING — Closed Session (Blavatnik School) Topic: Navigating the Cyber Frontier: Trends and Challenges
June 5 3:00 pm	Week 7	Sam Daws, Senior Practitioner Associate (DPIR) Topic: Multilateral AI Governance Negotiations & Global Inclusion at the UN
June 12 3:00 pm	Week 8	Yung Au (Oxford Internet Institute) Topic: Space Policy, Data Centres on the Moon, and New Colonialism After: Cyber Strategy Group Social (all welcome) Location The Oxford Retreat — Pub within short walk of Nuffield